

Matthew Kaplan, CEO – ReVireo
LEEP AP BD+C

Matthew Kaplan is the CEO of ReVireo, an interdisciplinary green building services company he cofounded in 2009. ReVireo provides real estate developers and homebuilders with consulting, training, and inspection services to achieve target levels of energy and environmental performance in new construction projects. As CEO, Matthew is responsible for company strategy, product development, and building relationships with both clients and partners.

Prior to founding ReVireo, Matthew worked at New Brunswick Development Corporation, Timothy Haahs & Associates, and the Port Authority of New York & New Jersey. Matthew also served as the Energy Outreach Coordinator for the NJ Sustainable Energy Efficiency Demonstration Project, which was funded by a Climate Showcase Communities grant from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

Matthew received his Bachelor of Arts degree in Urban Planning & Public Policy from Rutgers College and the Edward J. Bloustein School. He is currently completing his Masters of Business Administration degree at the New York University Stern School of Business. Matthew is also a member, and past-president, of the Associate Board of Covenant House NJ, which provides shelter and support to homeless youth.

